NEW GLENDALÉ 11 TV SHOW FEATURES GLENDALÉ MAYOR AND PRESIDENT/CEO OF MIDWESTERN UNIVERSITY

Glendale, Ariz. — Glendale Mayor Elaine Scruggs' new edition of "Glendale Today" highlights the past, present and future of Midwestern University featuring a 30-minute conversation with the school's president and CEO, Kathleen Goeppinger.

The school, located on 144 acres in north Glendale, has several colleges, including optometry, dental medicine, health sciences such as physician's assistant studies and osteopath and pharmaceutical. During the show, Dr. Goeppinger discusses the university's upcoming veterinary college and the important role of public outreach and community service as well as details on the $300 million economic impact Midwestern has had on Maricopa County.

This new edition of "Glendale Today" debuts Friday, October 19 at 8 p.m. and can also be seen daily on Glendale 11, the city's television station. In addition, viewers can watch online via the city's video library at www.glendaleaz.com/video. For more information about Glendale 11 or the new TV show, visit www.glendaleaz.com/glendale11.
